Modulo Lounger

Modulo collection is characterized by emphasizing the value of wood, by wooden slats of varying thickness, supported by pre galvanised steel sheet. The combination of both materials results in a design system which allowed us developing the backrest bench model, bench without backrest and the backrest / armrest version as well. A whole set with great versatility in outdoor spaces, which also works individually, and thanks to its wide range of finishes and colours, integrates its comfort at any park area, promenade and urban avenue.

Modulo is not just a bench collection, it also features a table unit and the ability to connect all units together using planters for biophilic integration. With unmatched customisation in timber, colour finishes and layouts, the only limit to what can be created is the imagination.
